Ray LaMontagne

Julia, were so glad you found the time
(We're so glad you found the time, cause it ain't easy)
Julia, Its so good you're of the mind
(It's so good you're of the mind to come and see me)

Sunday's In the park
She stays after dark
Light plays through silent trees
She stays, she stays with me

Julia, she's no ordinary color
(Not quite blue in hue, nor grey, but something other)
Julia, is it green in Aberdeen?
(Yes, its really quite serene there in the summer)

She stays, after dark
We gaze, at the stars
Light plays through silent streets
She says, says to me

"I can see, we were meant to be together you and me, spending all our lives together"

Julia
