

Ojai

Ray LaMontagne

I've been a Savior, a Sideman, a Stranger
Stung by anger, burned by law
Feel so Scattered, like nothing really matters anymore,
Put that sign out, on my front door

Hitching a ride on the PCH
I got some things I need to say
Calling out a friend of mine

I don't know where the years have gone,
Just know I'm worse for hanging on
Maybe it'd be best if I just let things lie
Guess I'm never gonna get back to Ojai

I knew a good man, he was a break in the Clouds, hanging so low down
It's got me to thinking, it's not like he gave in,
He just never got that second win

Hitching a ride on the PCH
I got some things I need to say
Calling out a friend of mine

I don't know where the years have gone,
Just know I'm worse for hanging on
Maybe it'd be best if I just let things lie
Guess I'm never gonna get back to Ojai

Ojai-Ojai

I've been a Savior, a Sideman, a Stranger
Son, hedge your wager, cause life ain't fair
I been shaken, sorely mistaken, this path I've taken
Ain't going nowhere

Hitching a ride on the PCH
I got some things I need to say
Calling out a friend of mine

I don't know where the years have gone,
Just know I'm worse for hanging on
Maybe it'd be best if I just let things lie
Guess I'm never gonna get back to Ojai
Guess I'm never gonna get back to Ojai
