Maiden's Prayer

Ray Price

When the evening falls twilight shadows find There beneath the stars an Indian maiden divine The moon is on high and seems to see her there In her eyes there's a light shining ever so bright As she whispers a silent prayer

Every word reveals an empty broken heart Broken by fate that's keepin' them so far apart Lonely there, she kneels and tells the stars above In her arms he belongs and her prayer is a song Her undying song of love

Every word reveals an empty broken heart Broken by fate that's keepin' them so far apart Lonely there, she kneels and tells the stars above In her arms he belongs and her prayer is a song Her undying song of love
