

Feel like jumping when you set the plank like I'll dive right down to hell Feel like jumping when you tighten the noose, slip anyway, ring a bell?
Feel the pressure as the monkey mounts and he's fed along the way Feel the absence, the void, the hurt, but I still decide to stay

I have the answer, I have the cure
I have the remedy, I will endure

Don't mind choking when you're gripping tight and the only thing left is me Don't mind hanging when tonite aint right, did it as many times as I've breathed Don't mind putting my neck on the line to feed him and not to see you bleed Don't mind taking my punishment even though I'm not guilty

Why do you scream with all your might when your screaming to nothing Why do you fear when I turn out the light when its not out of reach Why do you rave about stupid lies when there's no truth left in these Why do you cum before I start I'm not even in your panties