

Future Unknown

Razed in Black

I deceive you- innocently
I receive you- patiently
Who do you think I am?
Is Billy Boy really a man?
First impressions taunt the air the truth within unfolds despair.

I'm weakening
as always just some more don't know what to do about this dead man on the floor leave on the mask and scream inside
I thought I heard a cry
I guess I'll play along with this game
I've got nothing left to hide

Feel my world has gone astray You should've known.
Fear the love won't go away You should've known.

I command you- to set me free
I demand you- to let me be Freedom security lies
Who'd think I wouldn't open thine eyes
Pressure builds as I begin to tie
This thin rope around the sky
