Tu Amor

Mi amor I'm not sure of the right words to say Maybe these simple words will do best to best explain What I feel in my heart What I feel more each day How to make you see How to let you know How to say how to say how I love you so With words you understand Words that get right through to your heart Here's the place to start

Tu amor, I will always be Tu amor, means the world to me Estarás siempre en mi corazón You're the one in my soul And I live for tu amor, tu amor.

Mi amor love you more with each look in your eyes Maybe these simple words will do best to best describe What I feel in my heart What I'll feel for all time How to make you see How to let you know How to say how to say how I need you so With words you understand Words that get through to your soul Words that let you now

You're the one that I need in my arms Believe me these words I say are words that come straight from my heart How do I make you believe Nothing else means as much as what you mean to me
