

All that Matters

Rea Garvey

There's a crack in me
where the light gets in
where the music takes me
where the search begins

I hold it on tight
to let myself go into the light to find my shadows
and though these wings are shattered
how far can we fall?
god knows bruised and pattern
still fighting for it all

This song we've made
this love we gave
is all that matters
what's yours what's mine?
we've both been blind
to all that matters

were the colours true?
give me space to breathe give me strength to reach you

I'm hopin' it all to feel my sins is open enough to feel
how far can we fall?

this whole we made
what's yours, what's mine?

to all that matters 2x
Ooooooh, Ooooooh
To all that matters
Ooooooh, Oooooooh
Oooooo, Ooooooh
To all that matters
