

Rise Before You Fall

Rea Garvey

Should you breath so deep,
Should the sound wake you from your sleep,
Will you follow me
Or will you just walk on?
Are you one to believe? Are you strong?
And if there is no sign of truth, no sign of it at all
To survive this faith of ours
We must rise before we fall

And we will rise before we fall
And we will rise before we fall
You can't deny the cold that fills your soul
Yes we will rise before we fall

And we will rise before we fall
Yes we will rise before we fall

Turning defeat in the fire
Turning defeat in the fire
Turning defeat in the fire

Turning defeat in the fire
Turning defeat in the fire
Turning defeat in the fire
