

Save A Life

Rea Garvey

She said she's as cold as ice
She puts her hands down by your side
She's a part of you
She's deep in the heart of you

No time for electric dreams
Can't hear myself above the child like screams
It's what makes you old
It's what makes her cold

Why do we run
Why do we hide
Why do we keep all the tears inside
Why do we run
Why do we hide
When do we start living this life

Cheap shots don't make an argument
You can't take back the words you said
This life's too short for retrospect, let go!

We're gonna run away tonight
We're gonna run away and hide
We're gonna save a life, save a life, save a life tonight

She feels like an emptiness
All the thoughts that she wants to confess
It's just like a curse
Waiting to be first
And everything is a great sensation
You wear the cross of a generation
That left you there
Cause they couldn't care

Why do we run
Why do we hide
Why do we keep all the tears inside
Why do we run
Why do we hide
When do we start living this life

Cheap shots don't make an argument
You can't take back the words you said
This life's too short for retrospect, let go!

We're gonna run away tonight
We're gonna run away and hide
We're gonna save a life, save a life, save a life tonight

Come take a trip with me, we'll live on memories
We'll live with a new destination, just you, just me

Run away tonight
We're gonna run away and hide
We're gonna save a life, save a life, save a life tonight

Cheap shots don't make an argument

You can't take back the words you said
This life's too short for retrospect, let go!

We're gonna run away tonight
We're gonna run away and hide
We're gonna save a life, save a life, save a life tonight
