

Cheap Talk And Eager Lies

Real Friends

If my name falls past your tongue and teeth, make sure it's in front of my eyes and not behind your cheap talk and eager lies.

The things you do and the people you talk to don't impress me or my friends in any way
Take the easy way out and fall over the cheap talk you send away

I'm gonna keep getting up even when you keep trying to pull me down

If there's one thing that's not big enough for the both of us, it would be called this town

Stay away and stay out, I hope you never come back

Remember these words when you've got nothing to prove

The last thing I need is for words to sway past my ears through different voices than the person that first spit them out

The things you do and the people you talk to don't impress me or my friends in any way

Take the easy way out and fall over the cheap talk you send away

I'm gonna keep getting up even when you keep trying to pull me down

If there's one thing that's not big enough for the both of us, it would be called this town

Stay away and stay out, I hope you never come back

Remember these words when you've got nothing to prove

Sometimes the suburbs of that big city know how to fuck up my sleepy eyes

Sometimes the suburbs of that big city know how to fuck up my sleepy eyes just like you want to

I'm gonna keep getting up even when you keep trying to pull me down

If there's one thing that's not big enough for the both of us, it would be called this town

Stay away and stay out, I hope you never come back

Remember these words when you've got nothing

If you think this song's about you, don't worry it's not

I wouldn't waste my breath on you.
