Rain Fallin'

Reba McEntire

Rain fallin', fallin' rain
It's a long and troubled night
A night when I wish I could sleep
But there's no sleep inside

Heart breaking, breaking heart
It's such a lonely sound
That cries for the need of someone
But there's no one around

Nobody here to hold No one to warm the cold That lies deep within My soul all around

Just the sound of the rain falling, fallin' rain Like gentle tears of pain That comes with my only friend It's the gently falling rain
