

Heart Like A Lion

Rebelution

A heart like a lion, a burning like fire
Waiting just to be set free
A heart like a lion, a burning like fire
How can I bear captivity
Some they tell me I'm a fool, a fool who walks this road alone So afraid of making changes, remember that nothing is carved in stone
Oh tell me why we are so afraid of the secrets locked within ou r souls
Everything that we're made of is dying just to be exposed oh ye a

So don't turn your back on yourself, cause there's nowhere to r un
You know your life's ain't a practice run It's time to wake up you're mind oh yea For maybe tomorrow will never come or maybe it will but by then it's too late uh huh There's nothing left to do but cry
So now you cry and you don't know why, and now you cry but you don't know why

So what you want to be now well it's time to realize That everything you need now has been right in front of your ey es
Don't point your fingers and blame, remember it's never too lat e to change
Don't point your fingers and blame, remember it will be okay
