

Victims Of Circumstance

Reciprocal

Annihilate omnipotent gods, omniscient gods, omnipresent gods Vindicate, eradicate faith, irrational ways, primitive creeds, lack of evidence

Immaculate culture will be displaced for animosity Obtuse faith overrides human nature as we know it Cancer disperses across undivided boundaries Converting feeble minds, desolating interference

Pestilence advances overseas
All-encompassing creatural existence Succumb to the threat of their requisition Or depart from the flesh you have redeemed

Enslavement, killing, land theft, blood is on their hands
If they meet defiance, all must be dispersed or destroyed
Ultimatum be their final plea, truce and become obsolete Behold technology that has the power to erase you

Harmonious civilization deceived to aid them in their wars Once they gain supremacy, their aid will be aspersed, raped, and pillaged

Force-marched at gunpoint to new land
Those who fight brutally killed without sympathy Children torn from their mother's arms
By their limbs, bash their head onto rocks, left for dead
In sub-zero temperatures Suffering endlessly without fire or shelter Pneumonia begins to set in Organs shut down and skin turning blue, respiratory system shut s down

Seven thousand soldiers march through breaking down doors Dragging them to stockades dead or alive

"My friends circumstance renders it impossible that you can flourish in a civilized community"
-General Andrew Jackson

On the trails is the stench of death Savages unable to move on, left for dead Ninety percent meet their demise Exposure, froze to death, starvation, and disease Like cattle herded to their graves Helpless men, women, and children die, forsaken Afterlif e, your only hope to Escape the torturous treatment of your bro thers As one they depart We will extirpate