

Black & White

Reckless Kelly

Life goes black and silent, like a night that fills the air
Searching for a reason, like you never had a prayer
It's funny all those things you took for granted all along
And now they're gone

But it keeps you reachin' out for things so far away
Yeah it keeps you holdin' out, and holdin' on Until another day comes
'Til another day comes
You gotta live through today

All those hopeless questions, when your dreams are all but gone
The hardest part is knowin' that you knew the answers all along
Sometimes when you finally see the light
It's black and white

But it keeps you reachin' out for things so far away
Yeah it keeps you holdin' out, and holdin' on
Until another day comes
'Til another day comes
You gotta live through today

Yeah it keeps you reachin' out for things so far away
Yeah it keeps you holdin' out, and holdin' on
Until another day comes
Until another day comes
You gotta live through today
