

Crashed

Recover

Someone's going to die, going to die tonight.
Then the sun comes up.
The stars are all aligned, soon you will be mine whether you like it or not.

Crashed, I'm coming down, don't catch me, don't catch me.
Crashed, I'm coming down, come watch me break up all the city ground.

I've seen the other side, I know what it feels like and I haven't slept since.
My conscience couldn't last, my hearts beating so fast.
Someone tell me I'm going to make it.

Crashed, I'm coming down, don't catch me, don't catch me.
Crashed, I'm coming down, come watch me break up all the city ground.
