

Million Miles of Water

Red Hot Chili Peppers

Broke down I found even when you think you need a rest you will live to fight another round I know its too bad so sad all the things that we could've been and could've had

Hey girl what sound
a million miles of water that are flowing deep beneath this ground now I found you right here
a million miles of water

You were my muse
just because you happen to have a bomb doesn't mean you light the fuse I know that my girl big lie four years in and you never even said goodbye

Hey girl what sound
a million miles of water that are flowing deep beneath this ground
dear

Hey girl what sound
I want you to remember that some times we have to go without now I found it right here
I want you to remember dear

We were two of a funny kind so damn blind but now we got to nevermind
I know that this is the end we tried so hard but now I got to lose a friend

Hey girl what sound
a million miles of water that are flowing deep beneath this ground
dear

Hey girl what sound
now I found you right here
I want you to remember that...

Hey girl what sound
a million miles of water that are flowing deep beneath this ground
stream my love

Hey girl what sound
now I found it right here
I want you to remember that...
