Someone

Red Hot Chili Peppers

Someone There are no worries for Someone Life's in no hurry for Someone There are no worries for Nothing major or too complicated Just a friendly wager that we orchestrated For someone Someone Cut my heart out With a feather And put an end To any extra pressure For someone There are no worries for Someone Life's in no hurry for Someone There are no worries for Ride around on mellow waves of mercy And fill the space with lack of controversy For someone Someone Set it up to follow you On my aeroplane Here's a present For the future memory lane Someone There are no worries for Someone Life's in no hurry for Someone There are no worries for Light it up the room She sang into any twane In the month of June i'll be A moth to your flame Someone There are no worries for Someone Life's in no hurry for Someone There are no worries for me For me For me For me
