

I Couldn't Stand The Thought Of Losing You

Red Sovine

There's so many people breaking up their homes
Neighbors callin' one another on the phone
Gossips say that our break up is overdue
Oh I couldn't stand the thought of losing you
Oh I couldn't stand the thought of losing you
And with one another's help we'll see it through
They can't hurt us with their talking that they do
Oh I couldn't stand the thought of losing you
[steel]
I just wish that we could make them understand
All the problems that we have are dwelt in hand
And our troubles don't concern our neighbors too
Oh I couldn't stand the thought of losing you
Oh I couldn't stand the thought...
