

Aloha

Red Wanting Blue

Bought her ticket from the navy tonight
As she fell with the flowers who eat their own
Infected street lights open up
For the girl who hides alone

The seeds of dreams illuminate
As they grow out of her arms
As the painted men who steal to feel
Saw her running from the farm

Has anyone blown the whistle
Has anyone found the girl who lies below
Has anyone unleashed the dogs
Oh, they'll find her behind the gun
She needs to connect herself with me

Sold her ticket to the morning sun
As she danced with the people who breathe their own
Above the nightlight opens up
For the child who runs from home

The signs of time will blow your mind
As we all come around
As the painted men who steal to feel
All came falling to the ground

Has anyone blown the whistle
Has anyone found the girl who lies below
Has anyone unleashed the dogs
Oh, they'll find her behind the gun
She needs to connect herself with me
