

Say So Long

Red Wanting Blue

Days ago
Life beat sweet as innocence
Killed any chance of self-control
Whether it's fact or fiction
I am conflicted
I am gone
Say so long
I am gone
What are you waiting for?
What are you waiting for?

So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
It's what you needed
So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
Then you say so long

So go
Love once sweet now beats defeat
And innocence has, since, not shown
'Cause when your fairy tale becomes
A television rerun...you run
Say so long
I am gone
What are you waiting for?
What are you waiting for?

So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
It's what you needed
So you left without a fight
In spite of feeling strong
Then you say so long
You know you're mine
You know you're mine
You know you're mine
You know you're mine
You know you're mine
You know you're mine

So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
It's what you needed
So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
So long

So you added up what's right
And you added up what's wrong
It's what you needed
Then you say so long

So you added up what's right
(You added up what's right)

You added up what's wrong
Say so long
