

Part That's Holding On

Red

It all looks different now
But it was right in front of me
The memories fall around
If everything I used to be
Can I let it go
When I still feel your echoes
I watch you disappear
But I can't make myself believe

I gave it all
But you were fading
Where'd you go
All alone
I couldn't say
Not the fall
Through the dark
Of our shadows
I reach for you
Only you
Still apart
A part that's holding on

I cannot call it fare
Was it yours to die again
Who's a winner now
When I can't even speak her name
Caught inside the dream
When you were reaching back for me
Did you get lost inside
Did you disappear

I gave it all
But you were fading
Where'd you go
All alone
I couldn't say
Not the fall
Through the dark
Of the shadows
I reach for you
Only you
But still apart
A part that's holding on

You were dark on me
Never tried to see
What it tried to be
The one that lost it all
Did you find your way
Is it still a place
Is there a part of you
That's holding on Still holding on

I gave it all
But you were fading
Where'd you go

Where'd you go

I gave it all
But you were fading
Where'd you go
All alone
I couldn't say
Not the fall
Through the dark
Of the shadows
I reach for you
Only you
But still apart
