

Stronger Than Death

Redemption

Push the needle in my arm and give me poison
I can take whatever comes, I will not bow
This is just another battle in the war, and I will scratch and claw with everything I have
And I won't pay the ferryman
I won't be taken to the other side

(And you have to know)
Your threats have all become so hollow
(I am so much stronger now)
Like strawmen falling apart
(And I have the will)
Birth has always been a terminal condition
(To fight until the final beat of blood escapes my heart)
I am steeled, spirit strong, with resolve in my heart

Pull the marrow from my bones and then destroy it
I can will myself to overcome this all
Give me everything you've got: I defy you
I will break you and will laugh as you go down
And I will not go gently to the night

(And you have to know)
Your threats have all become so hollow
(I am so much stronger now)
Like strawmen falling apart
(And I have the will)
Birth has always been a terminal condition
(To fight until the final beat of blood escapes my heart)
I am steeled, spirit strong, with resolve in my heart

Death, where is your victory?
I've struck you down
The truth for all to see
You tried to kill me, but I've killed you!

I killed you! (4x)
(And you have to know
I am so much stronger now
And I have the will
to fight until the final beat of blood escapes my heart)

(And you have to know)
I am steeled, spirit strong
(I am so much stronger now)
I am steeled, spirit strong
(And I have the will)
I am steeled, spirit strong
(To fight until I crush you)
And I will crush you!
