

We've Already Won

Reece Mastin

You and I we've already won,
Even if we're out on the run,
We don't care about the past,
If they say its too good to last,
You and I we've already won,

First I'll lift you up then I'll drag you back down, They'll chew you up, they'll spit you out,
You stand on the edge but refuse to look down,
You do anything for the roar of the crowd,

And for the first time,
You feel alive,
And for the first time,
You feel alive,

You and I we've already won,
Even if we're out on the run,
We don't care about the past,
If they say its too good to last,
You and I we've already won,

I won't give you up, I won't watch you drown, we're killing the silence with amplified sound,

And for the first time,
You are alive,

You and I we've already won,
Even if we're out on the run,
We don't care about the past,
If they say its too good to last,
You and I we've already won,

And we don't care about the past, if they say its too good to last,

You and I we've already won,
even if we're out on the run,
we don't care about the past,
if they say its to good to last,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won,
you and I we've already won.
