

Black is the Colour of Your Life

Reflexion

Black nails, black hair, black lips and your deep black dress Black mind, black tears,
black is the colour of your life

The heartless never cries the painless never dies these wings will keep me up they will never let me down they'll carry me through the day All of your life you waited for.. someone to take you back to home

Oh how you waited for someone to take you back to home Oh how you waited for, for someone to bring back the colours of your life

It bows you days and nights makes you lose your mind it brings tears into your eyes all of your life you waited for..
someone to take you back to home

someone to take you back to home
the colours of your life
