Summerholidays vs. Punkroutine

Refused

I'm tired of losing myself in some Stupid childhood dream of what I could've been Money proves the point, and I'm stuck between Summer holidays and punk routine

Well, shoot off a 100 things to remain More sorry than safe you see I only get this chance once And I just can't let it be

And I'm still certain that what motivates me Is more important than any piece of paper could be Well, adjusted and corrupt All those icons that stole our teenage lust

A scenario of our simplicity A scenario of you and me A scenario of our simplicity A scenario of you and me

Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered (Than remembered) For giving in

Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered (Than remembered) For giving in

We're all tired of dying So sick of not trying Scared that we might fail We'll accomplish nothing

We're all tired of dying So sick of not trying Scared that we might fail We'll accomplish nothing

Not even failure Not even failure Not even failure Not even failure

Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered (Than remembered) For giving in
