

I Know

Regine Velasquez

I know, I know how the flowers felt when they're crushed by the rain when they knelt in pain

Oh your love you're love been pouring rain

Oh I've got scattered thoughts got some useless dreams how can I find balance and Freedom from extremes

I know I want you I want you to just go away I must be happy now oh come what may Please give my heart a chance to make a good love grow we can live without each other, I, I know
