

Future Is Plastic

Regurgitator

Am i just an ad for a better version of myself for is there something to do
Is this just another way of packing it and selling it off or maybe could it be new
When one size fits all life becomes a fuckin bore.. you know it 's true
You're an outlaw with your standingback against the shopping mall..
Of course they're coming for you
Cash engendered fantasy
Propping up reality
Someone sell me something - anything
Advertainment snatch - pop sell it off
If you know what i mean
Right drug pop shot help me maybe get it up
I guess i couldn't come clean
This economic crash leaves everybody cashing in
Now tell me right from wrong
Yeah the future is plastic light bulbs flashin it but there's nobody home
Patent personality
I will buy it happily
Someone sell me something - anything
