

Finish What I Started

Rehaser

Where to begin?
Move on into the next thing
When I keep pushing on I leave so many things undone
I just haven't been right
I can't stay in the moment some times
I forget where I've been
And you can't hold my attention

My eyes feel heavy and I know that Everyone will forget me and all that I've done

Cause I never finish what I started
Always feel like I've got better things to do
I never finish what I started
And I know some dreams may never come true

I mapped out a plan
But never made it thru the end again
Didn't I try? Didn't I get left behind?
You know, I really though that
I'd pull it through this last time
Wasn't I on my way?
Well, it's better that I just stay

I'm tired and lazy and I know you think I'm crazy
Forget me and anything I've done

Cause I never finish what I started
Always feel like I've got better things to do
Cause I never finish what I started
And I know some dreams may never come true

When I get stuck in the same old places
And I get sick of the same four faces
I can start over, and that replaces,
Out with the old and in with the new
I won't regret loose ends I left with you

Feels like I can't keep up
With this world all the time
And I know some dreams will never come true
