

Off-Key Melody

Rehaser

Why aren't you drinking from the top shelf?
There's way too many good things going on
Don't be afraid to be yourself
Don't ever be afraid to speak your mind
When you have so much to say
You struggle with a thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give it all a rest?
You've gotta give this all a rest

You struggle with a thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give it all a rest?
You've gotta give this all a rest

There's no reason to hold back those feelings
Let your inside out
There's no reason to hold back those feelings
Open up your mouth

Sometimes it gets me through the day
To just imagine things you'd wanna say
But instead you waste your time
You sit around and look for explanations
Just to find more complications

You struggle with a thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give this all a rest?
You've gotta give this all a rest

You struggle with a thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give this all a rest?
You've gotta give this all a rest

There's no reason to hold back those feelings
Let your inside out
There's no reason to hold back those feelings

You struggle with the thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give this all a rest?
You've gotta give it all a rest

You struggle with the thousand voices in your head
That you've been fed
Why can't you give this all a rest?
You've gotta give it all a rest

Why can't you give this all a rest?
You've gotta give it all a rest