

Blue

Remembering Never

Bat your eyes a thousand times
I've dreamed of touching your face
I never thought it could be this good
Ill never forget you
Not in a million years
Something about how good you look underwater
Like the dream I've had Since you looked the other way
But now you can only look up can't you?
My angel
You look so scared
A few more bubbles
A little more effort
And you'll be home
Its only water I promise
Its only water that's a promise
So you think they'll miss you
Say how they once touched your hair
Besides to brush the mud out
How beautiful you are
At least till they find you
You'll always remember my wavy face
And ill always remember that lovely shade of blue you wore that night
That tag on your toe says " I love you "
I loved you
Something about how good you look
Under the water
