

Smile

Remy Zero

I may not smile
as you turn and walk away my heart just falls on every word you say i will not fight
cause you will not listen and thought i never led my troops to war and though i never learned what my life was for and all i ever got was nothing cause you always said

one day
you always said soon i'll do it you always said now but waited

now you've waited to long waited to long
i thought you were right cause i knew i was wrong well you can cry if u want cry if u want
i will hang in myself myself

i will return
as a brilliant shining light the things i've said will all be proven right one one night
and you're whole life's wasted and thought you never led your troops to war and though you never learned what your life was for and all i ever gave you was nothing cause i always said one day i always said soon i'll do it i always said now but you waited

thought i was weak but proved i was strong now you can cry if you want cry if you want
you can you hang in yourself yourself, yourself

you can cry if you want i can cry if i want
we can cry if we want
lets stop hangin ourselves
