Golden Thread

Renaissance

The thread is tugging hard The refugee from Love's not his own The rainy window tears The seeds of grass confusion sown The bait is laid at hand The deal is much too good to miss

Lucifer sees a stray And waits to mark him with his kiss

We walk the golden thread And keep out footing firm and away If you trip, I'll fall You'll do the same for me one day