

You Don't Know A Good Thing Till It's Gone

Renaissance

It's too bad, we just made it past the start
It's too bad, you stole away my heart
I won't sleep right till I've got you by my side
I'll live and breathe you, the hunger won't subside

Oh, you don't know a good thing till it's gone
Oh no, you don't know a good thing

I can't stand not knowing how you feel
I can't stand not knowing if it's real
I don't believe it, is love ever fair
I just can't leave it hanging in the air

You fill an empty space, you're under my skin
I just can't walk away from this state I'm in
When darkness comes to me, I'll see your face
I'll feel you next to me and no one can take your place

I won't sleep right till I've got you by my side
(she wants) I want, (she needs) I need
The hunger won't subside
