

Erase me

Renegade Five

The night is here
And the world is turning black, I feel that It's getting dark
And tonight I'm feeling cold, I'm not alright

My own mistake
Took my life up to the edge, I'm thinking
Could it be those words
Within a minute without a trace, You on your own

My stupid lies Won't mean a thing
Cause in the end You got my faith
Need to get out Out of myself
This nightmare's got no end

What can I do
Try to go back
But facing the truth
just makes me stand
Waiting for you to come and erase me
I'm counting the days
Since you were here
Waiting for a storm
To blow me away
Waiting for you to come and erase me

To late to say
I will make everything alright, There's something
About the truth
That makes me so afraid for what I've got to loose
I can't believe I'm such a fool
I feel the fear Grow deep within Without you here I'll feel the pain
But I got myself to blame

What can I do
Try to go back
But facing the truth
just makes me stand
Waiting for you to come and erase me
I'm counting the days
Since you were here
Waiting for a storm
To blow me away
Waiting for you to come and erase me

No one can't believe me, I never gonna to fool you
What else could I tell you, now here's the beginning, when you erase me...

What can I do
Try to go back
But facing the truth
just makes me stand
Waiting for you to come and erase me

What can I do
Try to go back

But facing the truth
just makes me stand
Waiting for you to come and erase me
I'm counting the days
Since you were here
Waiting for a storm
To blow me away
Waiting for you to come and erase me

Erase me (What can I do try to go back)
Erase me (Facing the truth, just makes me stand)
Erase me (Waiting for you to come and erase me)
