

Running in your veins

Renegade Five

We are on the run tonight
we never face the dark Down there, lonely.
we never lose control
'cause we are making up distance so close In other words you better give your friends all you can If it makes you sweat you gotta ask yourself
'I'm I good or bad?'

After all we have done
its still running in your veins
when the night turns to day you're still living with the fear
your fear are haunting for this rival through the night
Its still running in your veins
Its running in your veins

If you wanna leave your life it doesn't mean that you have to stay strong It's always sound more better Help you stand up straightened, facing If a stranger comes to you and tries to push you down in the face Together in the darkness
You can feel the power in your hands

After all we have done
its still running in your veins
when the night turns to day
your fear are haunting for this rival through the night
Its still running in your veins
oooooo
Its running in your veins

Put the fire on Bleeding for the heath
Feel untouchable
Pointed out of stars
Its all there is for now When tomorrow shows its face you'll be seeking your reality Life is what the future brings

After all we have done
its still running in your veins
when the night turns to day
you're still living with the fear
After all we have done
its still running in your veins
when the night turns to day

Its still running in your veins.
