

Dangerous Combination

REO Speedwagon

I've been thinkin' too much, I've been drinkin' too much
And thinkin' and drinkin' for me is a dangerous combination
And I'm lonely as hell with a story to tell
I'm talkin' to myself and that's a dangerous conversation

Baby, you could save me tonight
You could make everything alright
You're lookin' better by the minute
I'm tryin' to keep from falling in it

But you may be just a little too much temptation
If we're gonna turn back, better turn back now
I'd say no, but I don't know how
Girl, I really should be leaving
But that's another conversation
Baby, you and me tonight is a dangerous combination

I've been trying so hard, feel like crying so hard
Baby, I may die trying to find a taste of sweet salvation
But it all looks so clear through these glasses of beer
And in your eyes, I've stumbled upon a double shot of inspiration
A rock and a hard place, I'm in between
Come on, baby, and set me free

But you may be just a little too much temptation
If we're gonna turn back, better turn back now
I'd say no, but I don't know how
Girl, I really should be leaving
But that's another conversation
Baby, you and me tonight is a dangerous combination
