

Are We Shaking The Foundations?

repeat offender

Trading places, On this sphere that we've abused,
Using our minds as weapons in our war against you,
Whoever needs, Whoever holds it dear,
We're broke, But there's no need to fix it.

Should we drown in the Mississippi River?
Should we drown...?

We fill the glass half full, But you see space in need,
I look in the mirror, But my face is worn away,
You try to clothe us, You want the picture clear,
We stand so tall, But come up too short.

Should we drown in the Mississippi River?
Should we drown...?

Are we walking on asphalt,
Not making an impact,
Are we shaking the foundations?
Are we walking on asphalt,
Not making an impact,
Are we shaking the foundations?

I hope, that time is kind,
I hope, that the time is kind..

Are we walking on asphalt,
Not making an impact,
Are we shaking the foundations?
Are we walking on asphalt,
Not making an impact,
Are we shaking the foundations?
Are we shaking the foundations?
