

Orifice Origami

Reptar

Something's not right here
What is it missing?
Gold under pebbles, throw it away
I was the last one pondering, caught up in the revel

Pellucid in disarray
Stacked under water
It's like the backgrounds lost
So I don't know where we started

Thumb said I am running away, I was raised to stick around, and be a fool
This way
Addy wrote verses that blew my mind
They were folding wandering all the time
The last of them roses burning away
It's a sophisticated process you just can't bottle, ok?
When I was one

Something's not right here
What is it missing?
Reacting the same but we don't know what the facts say

We take our medicine at night
I can't control it, what do I do?
Stay in the background, run around and try to console you

Suddenly what can I say?
Through the pillow my head reaches an appalling state
Do you remember the doctor's name?
No, it's going to be a long night anyway
