Water Runs

Through my veins Looking out from the car You rest your head Upon my arm Pretend to sleep And there we are Nothing would prepare me for the thing we have become What have I done? My darling What have I done? But if you see me running down the street Say I wanna be your friend It's a phrase I don't say often enough Don't want to scare or to offend Yeah if my body's a holy temple And my mind is the web I spin There's a feeling inside my insides But it just won't let me in I step out through The bathroom door Water running down my arms Zachary, you hold me close My body trembles In your arms I became a lifeless shadow, lashing out in pain I'll never go there again Don't wanna go there again I'll never go there again But if you run into me on the street Say I wanna be your friend It's a phrase I don't say often enough Don't want to scare or to offend Yeah if my body's a holy temple And my mind is the web I spin There's a feeling inside my insides But it just won't let me in
