

In Over My Head

Reuben Morgan

The world is all changing
I can't believe my own eyes
The moment I think I've figured it out
I am flawed

I'm not to sure
Of myself this time

I'm in over my head
And all I have is you now
I'm in over my head
And all I am is holding on to you

I can't see the way now
But this one thing I know
When every thing's changing
You're still closer than a friend
And so I will bow
And my heart will trust

I'm in over my head
And all I have is you now
I'm in over my head
And all I am is holding on to you

I'll never let you go

I'm in over my head
And all I have is you now
I'm in over my head
And all I have, all I have, is holding on to you
