

What's Reminding Me Of You

Reverend Horton Heat

ok lets go i see the flowers on vine and you come into my mind i see the colors blue and red and you pop into my head i see the swans out on the lake anything is all it takes seems that everything that i do is what is reminding me of you

is everything i do
theres a little place you dwell
in my memory so well
and it just seems by now i could have found somebody new but i can't get a thought in edgewise thats reminding me of you

as i strum on my guitar i stop to wonder where you are i can see you pretty face anytime or any place in my mind i see so well your perfume i smell and your lips so sweet as dew is whats reminding me of you

i see a flash of light or dark then the memorys really start our kitchen, couch, and bed start blazing through my head i want you back so bad i would give all i had another thought and heres my cue to think another thought of you

is damn near everything i do
