

Places For Breathing

Revis

Look around you
Do you see what you've got
With something so beautiful
Afraid it would drop
Into a thousand regrets

And i bet you were left there
It's getting me down
And I can't understand
Why everyone Stares when i crash at the landing and around were they stand

Everyone talks again

We try to say with confidence
That were picking up oblivion
And I was tryin to make some sense
Speaking to you

We try to say with confidence
That were picking up oblivion
Inside of you

All around you there's a feeling you lost
That everything beautiful
Is not what it was
Whenever you were on top

Of all you left up there
It's getting me down
To the place that I land
That hits me so hard
With a cruel understanding
That It might be the end

Everyone talks again

I'll bury myself into the corner
I can't even tell if I won't see anymore (2x)
