

In Awe

Revive

Yesterday I heard thunder roaring through the skies
And I saw lightning crash with incredible might
I gazed in wonder at the sight before my eyes
God of creation controlling the sky

I realised something more
That I'm nothing before you

So I stand in Awe of you
And I stand in Awe
I'm humbled for you
I'm trembling for you

I stand in Awe of the work of your hands
Every creature sits under your command
You carved out the mountains you direct the seas
How can this awesome creator care so much for me
