

Something Glorious

Revive

You're staring at the ceiling
But the stars are out tonight
You're looking for some meaning
But you're afraid of the divine

Open your eyes
To see through the walls of doubt
Open your heart
To live beyond the shell that holds you down

Show me something glorious
Show me something glorious
I'll show you the maker of it all

Show me something beautiful
Show me something beautiful
I'll show you the one behind it all

You're standing on the surface
You can't tell how deep it goes
Searching for a purpose
To this life you've come to know

Open your eyes
To see through the walls of fear
Open your heart
To live behind the shell that keeps you here

Show me something glorious
Show me something glorious
I'll show you the maker of it all

Show me something beautiful
Show me something beautiful
I'll show you the one behind it all

You ain't seen nothing yet
You ain't seen nothing yet
You ain't seen nothing yet
Open your eyes

Show me something glorious
I'll show you the maker of it all
Show me something beautiful
I'll show you the one behind it all

Show me something glorious
Show me something glorious
I'll show you the maker of it all

Show me something beautiful
Show me something beautiful
I'll show you the one behind it all

You're staring at the ceiling
But the stars are out tonight
