

You're All I Need

Revive

When the darkness settles in
And the world caves in all around me
You're all I need
When my life becomes so easy
And I have everything I've ever dreamed
You're all I need

And now I am finally home inside your love
And the hope I have in You is more than enough
And with all You've done my heart is finally free
'Cause You're all I need
You're all I need

When my heart is in despair
And there's no one left that cares for me
You're all I need
When my days are all complete
And I'm met with things I've never seen
You're all I need

I lift up my hands and give You it all
My life, my heart, my hope it's all Yours
