Nekron's bloody shadow lives on in his dark words Hargor knows what happened now it's time to run fast before they come

Run valiant heroes and hide the dark words of hellgod's last son

Then they found the river that led them to Fenor onward down to Orin Orin was their shelter
now they were safe

Triumph or agony depends on how you will use those words

Orin opened its grey walls, Hanos received them one of the wise kings who believed in the order's plan to save the known world
After a long deserved rest they went forth in the dawn their way back would be long

The evil forces are planning the worst act in the history of these lands what this book could reveal to them it's divine help

"Soon the black book will be opened with consequences beyond any nightmare.
Be ready to face its evil revelations.
Today, at the whisper of the darkest winds, a new saga begins!"

[Eloin:]
"Pass through our middle forests safely, old friend, my heart goes with you beyond mountains and oceans
I see what fate has decreed, I see it in the holy stars.
The seizure of Nekron's book is only the beginning of a great adventure and we shall meet again.
We shall defend our beloved earth.
Myth and legend ride with you!"
