Riding the Winds of Eternity

Rhapsody

Wise and mighty you are force of the earth Fierce becomes the sea at your command Winds of the south winds of the north let me hear your call Blow on my heart filling my soul give me the force of the storm

For all of the time I will ride be my guide I will follow your sign for a just life Winds of the south winds of the north let me hear your call Blow on my heart filling my soul give me the force of the storm

Riding the holy winds, winds of eternity I'll fight you forever nightmares sons
