

Keep Your Feet On The Ground

Rhonda Vincent

When I was very young, Dad would take me out to play.
Frolic and discuss the coming days.
When I would go out on my own for all the world to see.
This is what my Dad would always say.

Keep your feet on the ground, what goes up must come down.
And solitaire's a lonely game when there's no one else around.
Keep Jesus on the Throne of life no matter where you're bound.
He will always help you keep your feet upon the ground.

The years have travelled by me, and tomorrow's gonna wait.
Made a few mistakes along the way.
But whenever things get really tough, I think back on the times
When I was just a girl and Dad would say.

He will always help you keep your feet upon the ground.
