Save Me

Rich Mullins

Save me, save me Save me from my contempt for the things that make me strong Save me from any value I could put a price tag on Save me from Soviet propagandists Lord, save me from Washington Please save me, Lord save me Save me, save me Save me from the slick pop sounds Laid down in virgin vinyl grooves Save me from any woman who would be turned On to the aftershave I use Save me from trendy religion that makes Cheap cliches out of timeless truths Lord save me, please save me Save me