Days In Avalon

Richard Marx

I'm nearing the end Or the beginning Whichever one finds me And I'm counting the tears And the blessings That I'll leave behind me

I could not ask for more You were the one thing worth livin' for

I will remember days in avalon I will remember nights in your arms I will remember days in avalon And I will recall every moment Of my days in the sun

As I embrace the twilight The memories surround me I would have been lost Sure as the rain comes If you hadn't found me

Each breath I breathe is for you I never knew how to live 'til you taught me to

I will remember days in avalon I will remember nights in your arms I will remember days in avalon And I will recall every moment Of my days in the sun

I will run through the door I'm not afraid anymore And the light that I see is your eyes Once again I'll be whole I will live in your soul Longer than the rest of our lives

I will remember days in avalon I will remember nights in your arms I will remember days in avalon And I will recall every moment Of my days in the sun